DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 20-25 remain withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 23 August 2006.

Priority

2. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 1-19 and 26-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Droscher et al (U.S. Patent 6,243,616 B1) in combination with Lause et al (U.S. Patent 5,338,611 A).

Droscher et al (see the entire document, in particular, col. 3, line 66 to col. 6, line 25) teaches a process of making a three-dimensional object as claimed, except that Droscher et al does not explicitly teach selectively applying at least one microwave-absorbing first susceptor to one or more regions of a substrate (Droscher et al does teach (col. 5, lines 9-11) water as a thermal transmitter for improving heat flow), which is taught by Lause et al (see the entire document, in particular, col. 6, line 48 to col. 14, line 20) and such would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made in the process of Droscher et al in view of Lause et al principally in order to generate sufficient heat to fuse the particulate material and form a desired product.

Art Unit: 1732

Regarding claim 27, Lause et al teaches placing the susceptor at areas which are to be joined (or welded) together (e.g., col. 6, lines 48-58). Regarding claim 31, Droscher et al teaches that the particulate material flows when heated (col. 4, lines 51-53).

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-19 and 26-31 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

7. Applicant argues (page 9, second full paragraph) that the substrate itself is melted. Examiner notes that claim 1 does not require that the substrate is melted. Claim 31 does require that the substrate is melted, which is met by Droscher et al.
